OUR DRIVING PHILOSOPHY

Our vision for providing organisations with first-rate, consistent service in addressing their most critical, sensitive executive hiring needs serves as the framework for our Leadership recruitment.

With each engagement, we guarantee our customers an unparalleled level of quality service. We are responsive — we make ourselves available to clients around the clock, and strive to make each interaction memorable and professional.

We are thorough — with the client, the potential candidates, the references, and the “closing” details. To avoid surprises, we try to anticipate the “what ifs” of every event throughout the search. This allows us to zero in on the most qualified candidates while also saving our clients both time & resources.

We use a common sense approach not only to figure out appropriate targets for each search, but also to balance our optimism with realism. We know you are searching for the “ideal candidate” and realize that each candidate has both strengths and weaknesses. There is no exact formula for determining when a person’s strengths compensate for their weaknesses, or when those weaknesses overshadow that candidate’s strengths

We use personal respect to guide us throughout the search process. During the search process, we are entrusted with detailed, confidential information from all parties. Many people will be contacted – some as potential candidates & some as referral sources. Therefore, the necessity to provide balance discretion throughout each search with enough information for clients to hire the right person. Although our clients will only hire one candidate, our responsiveness & strong communications will ideally allow everyone considered in the search to feel good about client & the process they went through.

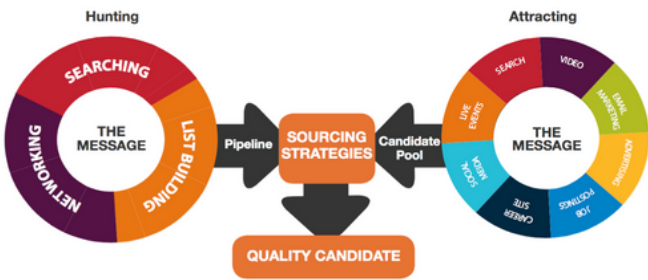

The time to fill a position (Offer to Joining Date) can vary based on the role’s complexity, market conditions, and industry demand.

On average, the recruitment process takes:

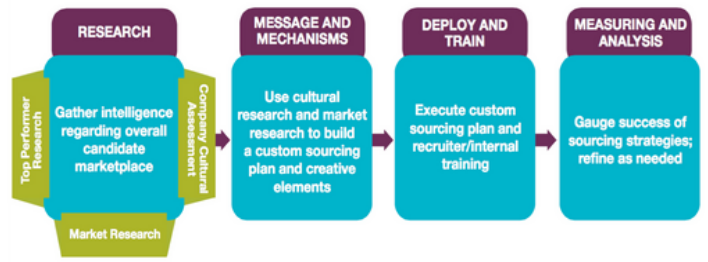

Junior and mid-level positions for Audit, CA / Tech & Leadership Roles : 6 to 12 weeks

Mid Level BPO roles: 6 to 8 weeks.

We work diligently to meet your timeline without compromising on quality.
